THEME:

In past years we have asked designers to create within a theme such as "Fantastical", "Myth & Legend", "Peace, Love & Diversity", "WILD" or "Art in Motion".

In 2021 and continuing in 2022, we are giving designers "free-range" - there is no theme! Other than the fact that designs must be constructed from "Edible" inspired materials, there are no limits! Designers can draw inspiration from absolutely anywhere and anything. Let your creative juices flow! We are excited to hear the story of your design, your artistic vision, your inspiration.

Teachers have the flexibility to fit participation in Edible within existing inquiry units. We encourage designers to think about different points of inspiration. Are you interested in designing for the fashion runway or are you inspired to create a character that you imagine coming to life on a movie screen? Does your inspiration come from a particular shape or perhaps a specific colour or colours; a period in history; a specific material - perhaps one you can experiment with manipulating in multiple different ways or one you have grown, or created in the kitchen? Are you inspired by your own culture, or perhaps another culture you have experienced or would like to research? Your idea might be sparked by a story you have read; a place you have visited; a piece of art you have seen; a message you want to share; something you love to do. Surprise us!

DESIGN INFORMATION / RULES:

- Designs must be constructed from edible food items, food by-products, imitation food items or food packaging in any combination - we welcome the pushing of boundaries here.
- Allowance is made for use of a base, but creativity and innovation in using only edible inspired materials will be highly regarded.
- We encourage designers to push the boundaries and use surprising materials in unique and interesting ways - essentially, if you have a clever and creative design idea and can make a strong link to food, we'll probably get excited about it. Eg: past entrants have created 100% edible materials from scratch from fruit leather, sausage casings, dehydrated jelly; have used food by products like fish skins, crayfish tails; egg shell mosaics; and other items like used cutlery, serving dishes, animal skins, harakeke, grocery bags, grocery receipts, drink bottle tubing, recipe books etc.
- The Nurture Designer category is to allow for young designers and adults (Mums, Dads, Aunties, Grandparents, cool neighbours, teachers etc.) to work together on a design, with no limit on the amount of adult involvement.
- For the Junior, Intermediate and Senior Designer categories, some help from an adult is acceptable, however we expect youth designers to come up with their own design concept and if more than a quarter of the work is completed by an adult, the design must be entered in the Nurture Designer category (if the youth involved is in Years 1-8) or in the Adult Designer category (if the youth involved is in Years 9-13). We reserve the right to move a design into either of these categories during Preliminary Judging.
- We reserve the right to limit the number of entries per school if capacity is reached in any category.
- Designs must not exceed 2m in height, 2m in length and 2m in width.
- Designs must be able to move safely on the stage without assistance. We welcome the pushing of boundaries, but we reserve the right to remove a design from the showcase for Health & Safety reasons - if this situation arises, the decision of our Event Management staff is final. If you are considering using wheels or other attachments as part of your design, please contact us to discuss in advance.
- Designers may model their own design or have another person model it for them.
- Edible Fashion Awards staff, contractors and their family may enter a design, but Judges and their family may not.
- Judges' decisions are final and no discussions shall be entered into.

OUR HISTORY AND VALUES:

The Edible Fashion Awards celebrates Hawke's Bay – our unique connection to food and our innovative and creative people. The idea of considering food as a design material is what Edible grew from and it's this idea that has resulted in some mind-blowing designs over the years. It's this idea that has also made the event completely unique and wildly different to any other wearable art or fashion event in the country.

Values around accessibility, cultural inclusivity, the sustainability of our planet and healthy eating are very important to us. We love that Edible sparks discussion around some of these issues, particularly with our young people and we want all members of our community to have an opportunity to participate in the event. Designs do not have to cost a lot of money – we encourage designers to think about sourcing recycled materials, or food by-products that might otherwise be wasted or end up in a landfill: previous winning designs have been made from mushroom skins, crayfish shells, fish skins, biodegradable cutlery, harakeke, woven plastic grocery bags, fishing net and egg shells for example. We also encourage designers to draw inspiration from their own diverse cultures and traditions and to design in a way that is aligned with their values – if creating or modelling a garment made from food is not aligned, there are many other options.

JUDGING CRITERIA:

The judging panel will assess designs based on four criteria:

- 1) Artistic Vision - the overall artistic vision and impact of the design.
- 2) Creativity / Originality.
- 3) Use of "Edible" inspired materials.
- 4) Standard of workmanship.

Additional judging criteria for Open Categories:

- Jewellery & Accessory Award - awarded for the best jewellery and/or accessory item(s).
- Keep Hastings Beautiful Award - awarded for the design that demonstrates the best use of recycled packaging and/or Hawke's Bay grown or manufactured food.
- Avant-garde Award - awarded by our judges for a design that is particularly experimental or innovative and pushes boundaries of what is accepted as the norm.
- Top Model Award - awarded by our judges to the model, who most embodies confidence and sense of self on the runway.
- People's Choice Award - decided by public vote.

SCHEDULE:

- Preliminary Judging and Designer Showcase will take place on Wednesday 24 and Thursday 25 August, 2022. A detailed schedule for the Wednesday and Thursday will be confirmed in late July, following the registration deadline when we will have information on entry numbers.
- If you are selected as a finalist for the Public Show, you and your model must also be available during the day and evening on Friday 26 August, 2022.
